

Canadian Muslim Union makes history with the first woman-led mixed-gender

International Women's Day

Juma

(Muslim Congregational Prayer)

Sermon & Prayer by

Pamela Taylor

Friday, March 9, 2007 – 1:20 PM

Pamela Taylor is the co-founder of Muslims for Progressive Values and former co-chair of the defunct Progressive Muslim Union.

Ms. Taylor made history in 2005 by being the first woman to lead mixed gender Muslim Congregational Prayers in a Mosque.

She is making history again by leading the first International Women's Day mixed-gender Muslim Congregational Prayers.

All are invited to participate regardless of gender, race, creed/religion/belief or non-belief, gender identity, sexual orientation, class, dis/ability, etc..

Steelworker's Hall
25 Cecil Street, Toronto
(one block south of College between University & Spadina)

for more information visit muslimunion.ca or iwdtoronto.com or e-mail secretary@muslimunion.ca

this event is endorsed by the United Muslim Association